LESLIE SLYE DIES AT HOSPITAL AFTER SURGICAL OPERATION

High School Student Succumbs To Complications Following an Operation for Appendicitis—Funeral Thursday Morning.

William Leslie Slye, 18 years of age, High School student and for several years an employee of the Public Ledger, died at Hayswood Hospital at 3:50 o'clock Tuesday morning of complications which arose following an operation for appendicitis.

The operation was performed about two weeks ago and the patient was thought to be improving satisfactorily until the latter part of last week when pneumonia caused the attending physicians fear. Every possible effort was made to save his life but all were of no avail.

Leslie Slye was born at Sardis, this county, on Sunday, February 1, 1903. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Slye, of Walnut street and had spent the greater part of his life in Maysville. He was a member of this year's graduating class at the Maysville High School and a most likeable fellow. Quiet and unassuming, he had won his many friends through traits of exemplary young manhood. His death is most untimely and the bereaved family has the deepest sympathies of scores of admiring friends and acquaintances.

Besides his parents, he is survived by two sisters, Misses Corinne and Winifred Slye, of this city, and one brother, Franklin Slye, of Canton, N. Y., who was called home by his illness.

The funeral will be held from the home in Walnut street Thursday morning at 10 o'clock with services by his pastor, Rev. W. S. Peters, of the Third Street M. E. church, and burial will be made in the Maysville cemetery.

The Maysville City Board of Education will hold its regular August meeting at the office of the Superintendent in the High School building Wednesday evening. At this is the last meeting before the opening of school, it is expected that there will be much important business before the body.

MICHIGAN OFFICERS SEEK INFORMATION ON 'SHINER

Man Said To Have Been Former Resident of Maysville Held In Michigan on Charge of Making Liquor.

Sheriff C. E. Galbreath Tuesday morning received a letter from Hiram R. Smith, Prosecuting Attorney of Roscommon county, Michigan, asking information in regard to one Joe Smith under arrest there on a charge of moonshining.

The prosecutor says that he has information that Smith is a former resident of Maysville and that about three years ago he shot and killed his own brother at the railroad station in Maysville following an argument over some land. His information was to the effect that Smith escaped into Michigan and had been in hiding there since.

Local officials have no record of any such murder as recited by the Michigan attorney nor do they know anything about the prisoner they have and they have so informed him.

TELEPHONES TO BE INSTALLED AT CENTRAL

CANTRILL URGES MASON GROWERS TO SIGN CROP

Congressman Tells the Mason County Farmers That Co-operative Marketing Plan Is Their Salvation — Interest Is Shown.

Congressman J. Campbell Cantrill, of Georgetown, addressed Mason county tobacco growers at the Opera House Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the interest of the proposed plan of the Burley Tobacco Growers Co-operative Association and declared that it was the only salvation of the growers.

Mr. Cantrill predicted that if the plan failed to go through it would mean the worst times ever seen in the tobacco district, and he urged the growers, for the sake of their families, their state, as well as their own future prosperity to get together, contract their crop to the marketing association and get a "decent and fair price" for their tobacco.

Mr. Cantrill said that if the crop was pooled the banks probably would advance as much to the growers pending its sale as the entire crop would bring under the old plan. He said the growers also would save about eleven million dollars in warehouse charges for the next five years and at the end of that time the warehouses themselves, while under the old plan they would "simply be out that eleven million dollars and not have a thing to show for it."

Mr. Cantrill said he had come to give the reasons why, in his opinion, the plan of the Co-operative Marketing Association presented the only hope of the burley tobacco grower. "You know as well as I do," he said, "that when tobacco sells at a good price, there is peace and happiness and plenty in the homes of Central Kentucky. There is no other organization in the field today than the Burley Tobacco Growers' Cooperative Marketing Association seeking better the condition of the tobacco growers. It presents a plan which thousands of growers in the other counties of the district have joined and which I urge you to join."

Mr. Cantrill declared his belief that "If the growers of burley tobacco do not get together their condition will be even worse than it is now." He said that if the growers did not fix their own price this year through the marketing association the manufacturers would again "take the crop away from the growers, as they did last year."

Mr. Cantrill brought news from Owen, Franklin, Bourbon, Woodford and Fayette that the big growers were signing the contract and that the other counties which carried the burden of the old pool need have no fear of the result in the Central Kentucky counties.

Mr. Cantrill said that when 75 per cent. of the tobacco was signed the growers would have the power to demand and to enforce the demand for a living price and not until they got together could they do this.

Mr. Cantrill explained the contract, saying that it was the old Kentucky pooling plan, strengthened by certain amendments which made it more effective. He claimed that it is easier now to finance a farmer's organization than in the days of the old pool.

Mr. Cantrill said he would not ask the growers to sign a contract unless it was binding only when 75 per cent. of the tobacco growers endorsed it.

He said that in the days of the old pool never more than 35 or 40 per cent. of the tobacco in the Burley district was signed. He said that was not enough to control the market, but that if 75 per cent. went in, it meant that the growers could control the market, set the price and "get that which is just due."

The speaker declared that if this were not done the farmer had nothing on earth to look forward to in the way of a money crop. He said that if this cooperative plan failed it would mean that thousands of Kentucky farmers would simply be sold out of house and home and have to start life over again. Mr. Cantrill predicted "want and woe and misery, the like of which you have never seen before if this plan fails."

Mr. Cantrill said the growers who went into the old pool had to carry the growers who stayed out. He said the pooled crops had been held for three years and that they would have been holding those crops still but for the cut-out, which brought the manufacturers to terms. He said that a 75 per cent. pool was equivalent to a cut-out and that when the growers signed up the 75 per cent. manufacturers would capitulate again and ask the growers to fix their price.

WON'T HOLD CROPS FOR HIGHER PRICES

Federal Reserve Bank's Report Declares Sale Now Will Have Great Effect on Retail Trade.

St. Louis, August 30.—Farmers in the Eighth Federal Reserve district apparently have given up the idea of holding 1920 crops any longer for higher prices, according to the St. Louis Federal Reserve Bank, made public here today. An indication of this is seen by the bank statistician in the fact that during July wheat shipments into St. Louis were 9,767,576 bushels, an increase of 5,496,000 bushels over the same month in 1920.

The bank statistician expects this to have a marked effect on retail trade which is reported as slow, especially in clothing lines. The statement says that reports are that the public is buying cheap goods and holding off where prices seem high.

The rains of the last month have revived crops in most sections and Arkansas, Tennessee, Northern Mississippi and Southern Missouri report the best corn crop in years.

Speaking of farming conditions in the South the report says:

"Crop diversification in the South has placed that section according to excellent authority, in a more independent position in the matter of foods and feeds than at any time since the Civil War."

Building permits during July showed a slight increase and there were ninety-four commercial failures with total liabilities of $1,545,784.

FEDERAL TROOPS WILL RULE WITH AN IRON HAND

Federal Troops May Be Sent Into West Virginia To Put a Stop to Playing There Which Has Proven Very Costly.

Washington, August 30.—President Harding today has before him a renewed request for Federal troops to quell disorder in West Virginia.

The President is expected to lay Governor Morgan's latest appeal for Federal aid before the Cabinet session today, with the probability that troops will be ordered into the state.

The Administration is ready to deal with the West Virginia situation with a firm hand, and Secretary of War Weeks let be known that if Federal troops were dispatched they would rule with an iron hand.

The rains of the last month have revived crops in most sections and Arkansas, Tennessee, Northern Mississippi and Southern Missouri report the best corn crop in years.

Speaking of farming conditions in the South the report says:

INVESTIGATION ESTABLISHES IMPOSSIBILITY OF REPORT

Child Which Died From Poisoning Could Not Have Opened Physician's Medicine Case, Says Coroner.

One day last week the small child of James Stricklett, who lives in Fleming county, died from poisoning at the home of the parents and it was reported that the child had climbed into an automobile driven by Dr. Jesse, a well known Fleming county physician, and opening the doctor's medicine case had taken the poison from one of the small vials.

Coroner Maxey, of Fleming county, has made a thorough investigation of the case and has given it as his opinion that this was impossible as the medicine case which Dr. Jesse carried was very difficult to open and no child so small as the Stricklett child could have opened the case without assistance.

The coroner gave it as his opinion that the child had found some rat poison on crackers which had been distributed about a nearby store and had thus been poisoned. Dr. Jesse's machine was parked near the Stricklett home when the child was poisoned and turned over to the county authorities for further investigation.

Coroner Maxey Tuesday morning stated that there was little evidence in the case and that there was no direct or circumstantial evidence that the lad killed deliberately but because of the boy's past record in the neighborhood, the people living there thought that the case should be more thoroughly investigated and that investigation has been started by the authorities of Fleming county.

EXORBITANT RAILROAD RATES MUST BE REDUCED.

Germany is now supplying to California and the entire Pacific Coast all the coke which that section is using, according to a letter from the Matthews Addy Company, iron merchants of Cincinnati. And yet we have been told that there was no danger from German competition.

In discussing this subject, the Matthews Addy Company points out that this condition is largely due to exorbitant freight rates. In olden days the freight rate on pig iron from Birmingham to the Pacific Coast was $12.32 per ton, but today it is $22.40 per ton, and they add: "All the iron that is needed on the Pacific Coast is coming by sea, most of it from Belgium." * * * "In the olden days the rate to California on Connellsville coke was $11.30 per ton; the present rate is $19.76 per ton."

And then mention is made of the fact that the coke that is being used on the Pacific Coast is coming from Germany.

The old freight rate from Birmingham to Cincinnati was $2.75 per ton; now it is $4.50. The freight rate on pig iron from Birmingham to St. Louis was $2.75; today it is $5.25. "The South," the Addy Company writes, "has just about gone out of the pig iron business, because freight rates are so high as to practically build a wall around the Southern furnaces."

The situation in the iron and coke trade, so clearly outlined in this letter, is typical of the conditions prevailing in nearly every line of business in this country. Freight rates are exorbitantly high. They are destructive of business. They were made when cotton was selling at 35c. to 40c. a pound, and pig iron and coke at more than double the present prices. Since these freight rates were established prices of everything have been cut right and left, and railroads cannot prosper at the present rates, because present rates destroy business.

There can be no thorough economic development of this country until the railroads voluntarily, or by the power of the Interstate Commerce Commission, are forced to bring rates down to a more normal basis.

The Manufacturers Record for twenty years or more advocated a higher rate than that which prevailed, believing that the railroads were not then getting a freight rate which would justify the expansion of railroad facilities, which we have so persistently advocated. But the present freight rate is absolutely unjustified from every point of view. It is destructive of business. It has thrown a great burden upon the country. It is permitting European coke and iron to drive out the coke and iron of Pennsylvania and the South from the Pacific Coast, and is hampering and in many cases making impossible the development of our domestic export trade.

Unless the railroads voluntarily and promptly take the lead in bringing about lower freight rates, they will inevitably create a hostility to railroad interests which will prove as destructive as were the legislative activities years ago, by the states and the nation alike, against all railroad interests. A quick readjustment of freight rates, preferably by the wisdom of the railroad managers, is the safest and surest course for their own preservation. He will be a narrow-minded railroad official who fails to see the signals of danger in present rates and who does not take prompt steps to bring about a reduction in rates.—Manufacturers Record.

FARM AND HOME NEWS FROM OVER KENTUCKY.

Following food results obtained in other years, J. B. and R. S. Oustin, Webster county farmers, are planning to fatten their hogs for the market by hogging down corn and soybeans this fall. The work will be conducted as a demonstration by the two farmers who are cooperating with County Agent Lloyd E. Cutler.

Seven boys are now candidate for the team to represent McCracken county in the junior livestock judging contest to be held at the State fair, September 14, under the direction of the College of Agriculture, according to a report of County Agent J. R. Bird.

Purebred animals are replacing scrub stock on many Graves county farms, according to a report of County Agent B. H. Mitchell. R. T. Ligon and W. L. Thurmond have been the latest farmers to join the movement for better stock, these two purchasing purebred hogs.

The first car of sheep to be shipped cooperatively by the McCracken County Sheep Breeders' Association brought the top price on the Louisville market, according to County Agent J. R. Bird, who cooperated with the farmers in forming the organization.

McLean county, Illinois, is said to be the richest agricultural center in the world. The average value of each farm in this district is $58,000, while the average value for the state is only $21,150.

HEALTH NUGGETS.

Summer for health and some's not, says the U. S. Public Health Service. Look out for typhoid fever on your vacation.

Buy your health in advance, says the U. S. Public Health Service, and you won't even know you are paying for it. Good solid dependable health was never cheaper than it is today.

"Sure cures" for tuberculosis are probably as old as the disease itself, says the U. S. Public Health Service. Hypophosphites, creosote, "lymph," inhalants, serum, and the Friedman cure have all come — and gone. Just now some old devices in new forms are being acclaimed in the southwest. But: "I can't say yet what medicine cured me," said the testimonial writer. "I ain't heard from but three sure-cure companies yet an' I'm waitin' for bids from the advertising agents of two more."

More and more, disease is being cured before it begins, says the U. S. Public Health Service. Typhus, which drove Napoleon from Moscow and destroyed his army, is now being wiped out by soap and hot water. Smallpox, once clasped with measles as a deadly but inevitable child's disease, is being ended with tiny tubercle vaccine. Lead poisoning in potters is being markedly checked by the workmen eating outside their workrooms and washing the lead glaze off their hands before eating at all. Children by thousands are being saved from slow starvation by attention to their teeth, which enables them to eat and to digest their food. Wherever modern public health work is in progress, lives are longer and safer than they were.

Infancy and childhood are the danger periods for tuberculosis, says the U. S. Public Health Service. To protect your child, pasteurize the milk or use certified milk; protect infants and young children from contact with the sick; and keep the growing child strong and well by seeing that it drinks milk, eats vegetables, avoids excessive fatigue, and gets enough sleep.

Personal responsibility for the transmission of venereal disease has been upheld by both civil and criminal courts, says the U. S. Public Health Service. In Oklahoma a man has been sentenced to five years in the penitentiary for infecting a girl with syphilis.

In Nebraska the court upheld a doctor who warned a hotel keeper that one of his patients, a guest at the hotel had syphilis and had refused treatment and was consequently a menace to the public health. In North Carolina a woman has been awarded $10,000 damages against her husband for a similar offense.

The opening of wards in general hospitals to tuberculous patients will, says the U. S. Public Health Service, be of enormous benefit not only to the two million declared victims of the disease in the United States but also to thousands of others in whom the disease is still easily suppressible. Many of these fear the stigma of an avowed tuberculous hospital, and put off going to it until recovery has become

New York Letter by Lucy Jeanne Price

New York — Mrs. Roswell Miller, daughter of Andrew Carnegie, will set up housekeeping in a home where the Skibo Castle atmosphere will still cling and the Scots Wha Hae etc., will not be forgotten. Mrs. Andrew Carnegie has cabled orders from Skibo itself, where she is spending the summer, to have a large part of the furniture at Shadowbrook — the Carnegie country place in Massachusetts — sent to the house here in Ninetieth street, which she recently bought for her daughter and son-in-law. Five truck loads have already arrived and they contain a great number of the pieces brought over from Scotland by Andrew Carnegie on the occasion of his first visit back there.

The season is on! Four brand new theatrical openings last week and six this! Won't be long now before we'll begin spending a large part of our evenings out in explaining, "No, I haven't seen that, but a very good friend of mine who did," and so on and on and on until our out-of-town visitors say after they've left us,

"Really, what do you suppose she gets out of living in New York, after all?" It's a sprightly beginning of the season, quite enough to tempt one to spend a large part of our income on the theaters as our out-of-town visitors always seem to expect. Distinct hits have already been made by "Sonya," in which Violet Heming and Otto Kruger are their most attractive selves; "March Hares," the play of excessively temperamental people who have divided the audience into those who think the whole play mad and those who consider it "most significant" and to be carefully studied in order to "get it" all; "Sir-Cylinder

The enterprising, rather swift-moving, younger set of the New Yorkers who summer at Newport once again have a definite and undisputed leader. Reginald C. His return has been the signal for all sorts of interesting parties. His popularity at home seems to be definitely increased by the fact that while away he acted as a judge at the Olympic horse show in London.

The feminine half of Long Island is decidedly wrought up. What on earth is a summer resort for if not to be comfortable in a sunnier way? it is arguing. But no! Not any more. The un-appreciative village authorities have served notice that hereafter there is to be no marketing in swimming togs. In fact, no one will be permitted on the streets in a bathing suit unless it is covered by some suitable cloak, coat, or bathrobe, states the new ordinance. Strolling along through the street and marketing from the hucksters' wagons, in the simplicity and comfort of "swimmers" has long been the established custom there, and no one has even thought of putting on anything but that serviceable costume until after lunch — if then. Dips into the water were taken ad lib in intervals of the strolling. But that's all off, now.

New York hairdressers refuse to concede that bobbed hair is diminishing in popularity. "It's increasing," most of them insist. "Why was Germany in the position that her chemists have achieved much more than the chemists of this or any other country," asked Senator Knox. "The simple fact is that in Germany they do not burn their coal. They roast it. They make coke as a fuel, and they utilize their by-products, for chemical purposes, and especially for the manufacture of dyes."

In speaking for the administration's plan for fostering the development of America's chemical industry, Senator Knox said:

"I agree with the President that it is essential that there shall be built up and maintained in this country a dye industry unsurpassed by that of any other country."

"We have at last discovered a fundamental truth, and that is that anything that we can analyze accurately and ascertain its constituent elements, that thing we can create."

Plenty of Maysville evidence of their worth.

Fred Dresel, proprietor tailor shop, 1238 East Second street, Maysville, says: "I am glad of the opportunity to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. I was troubled with inflammation of the bladder and annoyance from my kidneys. When passing the secretions they burned terribly and often bordered on a stoppage. I had severe aching pains across the small of my back which greatly interfered with my duties. I was telling a friend how my kidneys acted and he advised me to get a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at Wood & Son's Drug Store. I began taking Doan's and they gave me prompt relief. Doan's did me lots of good and I know they are an excellent remedy."

Mr. Dresel gave the above statement February 6, 1908, and on November 22, 1920, he added: "I think just as highly of Doan's Kidney Pills today as I did when I gave my former recommendation many years ago. My cure has been a lasting one."

LUCY JEANNE PRICE

KENTUCKY SHOULD SAVE MUCH THROUGH COAL BY-PRODUCTS

More Than Thirty-Four Millions of Dollars Wasted in Kentucky Each Year By Burning Coal.

Kentucky's industries annually waste more than $34,000,000 that could be saved by utilizing coal tar by-products and conserving coal resources, according to figures laid before the United States Senate by Senator Philander C. Knox.

The total annual waste in the entire country Senator Knox places at $300,000,000 — enough to pay off the nation's debt within a 30 year period.

Coal is the source from which more than 1,500 articles of commerce are wholly or in part derived. Germany has been able to place all of these articles in the world market as a result of the research work done by her chemists. In our country, tar for roads, paving, roofing, waterproofing and insulating materials, flavoring extracts, perfumes, photographic developers and wood preservatives are some of the possible products that are now "going up the chimney in smoke."

By adopting the methods used in the large industries in Germany where coke has practically superseded coal as a fuel, Kentucky's share of the savings developed by by-products would be:

88,000,000 cubic feet of gas worth	$8,800,000
160,000,000 gallons of tar worth $6,400,000
416,000,000 pounds ammonium sulphate worth	$12,480,000
60,000,000 gallons of benzols worth	$6,400,000
.....	$34,080,000

"Why was Germany in the position that her chemists have achieved much more than the chemists of this or any other country," asked Senator Knox. "The simple fact is that in Germany they do not burn their coal. They roast it. They make coke as a fuel, and they utilize their by-products, for chemical purposes, and especially for the manufacture of dyes."

THIEVES TAKE IRON SAFE WITH $12,000

Covington Burglars Use Stolen Auto To Carry Off the Heavy Loot.

Cincinnati, August 29. — A heavy iron safe was torn from its concrete base in the station of the Standard Oil Company early today by thieves and hauled away in an automobile which they stole from the station.

The robbers evidently believed they could gain time by removing the safe, rather than attempting to force it open in the station. In the safe were $500 in currency, $100 in checks and $600 in coupon books.

The thieves had gained entrance through a window in the rear of the building and it was through the same window that the safe was carried.

TRouble SEEN RESULT DEATH OF ERZBERGER

His Assassination Last Straw in Serious Political Situation—Labor Demands Ban on Warlike Activities.

Berlin, August 29. — Political conditions in Germany which during the past few days have assumed a grave aspect, were considered by the cabinet today. President Ebert presided. The assassination of Mathias Erzberger last Friday has appeared to have set a match to the piled up combustibles which have been smoldering for some time and the cabinet is believed to find itself in a serious predicament.

One of the features of the situation which is troubling the government is the attitude of organized labor, supported by the Socialists and Communists parties, in demanding the suppression of the activities and machinations of the Pan-Germane. This party has been unusually active of late holding battle anniversaries, "Stein" helmet" athletic meets, "front troop reunions" and other affairs at which Field Marshal von Hindenburg, General Ludendorff and other military leaders have been present. These functions for the most part have taken on the character of Anti-Republican manifestations.

The government must decide in the next few days whether it will call the Reichstag into session before September 27, the date fixed for that body to meet. There is a disposition on the part of Chancellor Wirth not to take this action, because of his desire to avoid debate upon the American treaty before the pact is ratified by the U. S. Senate. The government would be unable to prevent such debate, in view of the overheated political atmosphere caused by the murder of Herr Erzberger.

It is a foregone conclusion that the nationalists, if the Reichstag should reconvene, would promptly attack the government because of its acceptance of paragraph 231 of the treaty, by which Germany and her allies accepted responsibility for the war.

PICNIC POSTPONED.

The picnic of the Third Street M. E. Sunday school that was to have been taken place Wednesday afternoon has been postponed until a later date.

Mrs. Power, Miss Jennie Strauble and Miss Patterson, of Augusta, are the guests of Mrs. Charles E. Curran, of Fourth street.

ENTERTAINS OLD POSTOFFICE CHUMS.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Haucke entertained a few of his old postoffice chums Monday evening with an elaborate supper. Those present were Tom W. Breen, Neisse T. Bratton, M. F. McNamara, Julian D. Bell, Chris Hunsticker, D. P. Glascock, Clarence Mathews, Kemper Felix Mitchell, Clarence Perkins and J. H. Richardson. While partaking of the splendid supper, a general good time was had recounting the experiences, both humorous and otherwise, that the "boys" had had the past twenty years, a large part of which Mr. Haucke had a part. While no one in particular made what might be termed an after-dinner speech, all contributed their part in keeping the evening lively. Without detracting one whit from the merits of others it may be said that "Uncle Julie" carried off the laurels for the best joke teller. All present gave their best wishes for success, happiness and prosperity to Mr. and Mrs. Haucke. It would be very fitting now that Frank has made such a good start if a few more of the "old batch" about the Government building would "go and do likewise."

The foregoing is from the Huntington, W. Va., Dispatch. The groom is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. James Frost of Cherry street.

ODD TIP FROM MAYSVILLE.

Officers and members of the family of nine year old Freda Hornberger who has been missing from her home in Cincinnati since Sunday, August 21st, have received many tips from over the country. Probably the strangest yet received, says the Cincinnati Times-Star, came from Maysville by mail.

"There is in Maysville, according to the letter, a young man who has been as successful as Joseph, of Biblical account, in the matter of dreaming 'true' dreams. He has seen in his dreams the little Hornberger girl in a place near by where she was last seen," writes the Maysville man. "So I thought if she could be found in this way we will tell you the boy's name, as many things have come to pass which he foretold in dreams."

BRYAN LAUDS THE DISARMAMENT MEET

Great Commoner, in Cincinnati, Says Hardings Meeting May Bring Peace to the World.

CINCINNATI, August 30.—World peace as a possible result of the forthcoming disarmament conference was predicted Monday night by William Jennings Bryan, who was in Cincinnati en route to Moore's Hill, Ind., where he will appear on a chautauqua program.

W. L. Glazier, of Newport, Mayville's City Engineer, was appointed Chairman of the Good Citizenship League, which was organized at the Grace Methodist Episcopal church Monday night. The purpose of this organization is to combat wide-open gambling in Campbell county. William B. Davies was chosen Secretary and Earl W. Chapman Treasurer.

In the absence of Horace Drake of the Higgins Manufacturing Company the Rev. E. R. Overley presided.

The Rev. Mr. Overley said the league did not stand for the blue laws, nor was it against innocent amusements, nor was it even opposed to a friendly game of cards in the home.

"The pressure upon the forthcoming disarmament conference is very strong because of this," he explained, "and doubtless will grow stronger day by day. In view of this fact, the result of the conference will be a long step toward peace—so long a step that the world will rest in the belief of the ultimate extinction of war."
